(iii) evidence sufficient to justify the issue of a warrant for his arrest under section 14 of this Act.

(3) On receipt of such a request, the Minister may issue an order to proceed unless it appears to him that an order for the return of the person concerned could not lawfully be made, or would not in fact be made, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

14. (1) A warrant for the arrest of a person accused of an extraditable offence, or alleged to be unlawfully at large after conviction of such an offence, may be issued by a Magistrate of Judicial Police — Arrest for purposes of committal.

(2) A warrant of arrest under this section may be issued upon such evidence as would, in the opinion of the magistrate, authorise the issue of a warrant for the arrest of a person accused of committing a corresponding offence or, as the case may be, of a person alleged to be unlawfully at large after conviction of an offence within the jurisdiction of the courts of criminal justice of Malta.

(3) Where a provisional warrant is issued under this section, the magistrate by whom it is issued shall forthwith give notice to the Minister, and transmit to him the information and evidence, or certified copies of the information and evidence, upon which it was issued; and the Minister may in any case, and shall if he decides not to issue an authority to proceed in respect of the person to whom the warrant relates, by order cancel the warrant and, if that person has been arrested thereunder, discharge him from custody.

Proceedings
for committal.

15. (2) Where the person arrested is in custody by virtue of a provisional warrant and no authority to proceed has been received in respect of him, the court of committal may fix a reasonable period (of which the court shall give notice to the Minister) after which he will be discharged from custody unless such an authority has been received.

(3) Where an authority to proceed has been issued in respect of the person arrested and the court of committal is satisfied, after hearing any evidence tendered in support of the request for the return of that person or on behalf of that person, that the offence to which the authority relates is an extraditable offence and it is further satisfied —

(a) where the person is accused of the offence, that the evidence would be sufficient to warrant his trial for that offence if it had been committed within the jurisdiction of the Courts of Criminal Justice of Malta;

(b) where the person is alleged to be unlawfully at large after conviction of the offence, that he has been so convicted and appears to be so at large,

the Court shall, unless his committal is prohibited by any other provision of this Act, commit him to custody to await his return thereunder; but if the Court is not so satisfied or if the committal of that person is so prohibited, the Court shall discharge him from custody:

Provided that notwithstanding any order discharging him from custody such person shall remain in custody until the expiration of three working days from any such order and, where an appeal has been entered by the Attorney General, until the appeal is disposed of or abandoned, or the Attorney General consents to the release of such person.

16. Where a person is committed to custody under section 15 of this Act, the Court shall, besides informing him that he will not be returned until after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of its order of committal and that, within that period, he may appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeal, also inform him that, if he thinks that any of the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of section 10 of this Act has been contravened or that any provision of the Constitution of Malta is, has been or is likely to be contravened in relation to his person as to justify a reversal, annulment or modification of the Court's order of committal, he has the right to apply for redress in accordance with the provisions of section 47 of the said Constitution.

17. (1) Any person remanded or committed for custody under section 15 of this Act shall be committed to prison and shall be treated as a person awaiting trial.

(2) The Registrar of the court of committal shall, not later than the first next working day, transmit the application, together with the records of the case, to the Registrar of the Court of Criminal Appeal, who shall, without delay, forward a copy of the application to the Attorney General.

(3) Notice of the day fixed for the hearing of the appeal shall be given by the Registrar of the Court of Criminal Appeal to the appellant and to the Attorney General:

(4) If the Court of Criminal Appeal reverses the decision of the Court of Judicial Police, the Court shall order that the appellant be discharged.

19. (1) Where the decision of the Court of Judicial Police is such that the return of the person requested cannot take place, the Court shall, within twenty-four hours, transmit to the Attorney General the records of the case together with a copy of its decision, and the Attorney General may, within three working days from the date of the receipt of such record, appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeal by an application, to be accompanied by the said record and by a copy of the decision of the court of committal, filed in the Registry of the Court of Criminal Appeal. A copy of the application shall be served on the person whose return is requested.

(2) On any appeal under this section the provisions of subsection (3) of section 18 of this Act shall mutatis mutandis apply and if the Court of Criminal Appeal orders the committal to custody of the person whose return is requested such order shall be treated, for all purposes other than an appeal therefrom, as an order committing such person to custody.

Powers of Court of Criminal Appeal and of Constitutional Court.

20. On an appeal made to the Court of Criminal Appeal or on an application for redress to the Constitutional Court under section 47 of the Constitution of Malta, either of the said Courts may, without prejudice to any other jurisdiction, order the person committed to be discharged from custody if it appears to such Court that —

(a) by reason of the trivial nature of the offence of which he is accused or was convicted; or

(b) by reason of the passage of time since he is alleged to have committed it or to have become unlawfully at large, as the case may be; or

(c) because the accusation against him is not made in good faith in the interests of justice, it would, having regard to all the circumstances, be unjust or oppressive to return him.

Order for return to requesting country.

21. (1) Where a person is committed to await his return and is not discharged by order of the Court of Criminal Appeal or of any other competent Court, the Minister may by warrant order him to be returned to the requesting country unless the return of that person is prohibited, or prohibited for the time being, by section 10 or by section 12 of this Act, or the Minister decides under this section or under section 11 of this Act to make no such order in his case.

(2) A person shall not be returned to any country under this Act —

(a) in any case, until the expiration of the period of fifteen days beginning with the day on which the order for his committal is made;

(b) if the person committed to custody is entitled to institute any proceedings, whether of appeal or otherwise, which may lead to the reversal, annulment or modification of the Court's order of committal, and there is established by law or there has been fixed by a Court's order or judgment a time-limit within which such proceedings are to be instituted, until the expiration of such time-limit;

(c) if any proceedings referred to in the last preceding paragraph have been instituted, until the conclusion of such proceedings:

Provided that the proceedings shall be deemed to have been concluded also if they have been withdrawn or abandoned.

(3) The Minister shall not make an order under this section in the case of any person, if it appears to the Minister, on the grounds mentioned in subsection (3) of section 19 of this Act, that it would be unjust or oppressive to return that person or if he considers, on any such grounds as are mentioned in subsection (1) of section 10 of this Act, that the order ought not to be made.

(4) The Minister may decide to make no order for the time being under this section for the return of a person committed by the Court in consequence of a request made by any country if another request for his return under this Act has been made by another country and it appears to the Minister, having regard to all the circumstances of the case and in particular —

- (a) the relative seriousness of the offence in question;
- (b) the date on which each such request was made; and

(b) in the case of a document that purports to have been received in evidence as aforesaid or to be a copy of a document so received, if the document purports to be certified as aforesaid to have been, or to be a true copy of a document which has been, so received;

(c) in the case of a document which certifies that a person was convicted as aforesaid, if the document purports to be certified as aforesaid, and in any such case the document is authenticated either by the oath of a witness or by the official seal of a Minister in or of the requesting country.

(3) It shall be lawful for the Commissioner of Police or for the Attorney General as the case may be, as well as for the person the return of whom is requested, to produce evidence before the Court of Criminal Appeal even though such evidence shall not have been produced before the court of committal.

(4) In this section, "oath" includes affirmation or declaration; and nothing in this section shall be construed as prejudicing the admission in evidence of any document which is admissible in evidence apart from this section.

Handing over of property.

23. (1) The Minister may, through the Commissioner of Police, seize and hand over to the requesting country any property —

(a) which may be required as evidence in that country; or

Discharge in case of delay in returning.

24. (1) If any person committed to await his return is in custody in Malta under this Act after the expiration of the following period, that is to say —

(a) in any case, the period of two months beginning with the first day on which, having regard to subsection (2) of section 21 of this Act, he could have been returned;

(b) where a warrant for his return has been issued under section 21 of this Act, the period of one month beginning with the day on which that warrant was issued, he may apply to the Court of Criminal Appeal, sitting as a court of appeal from judgments of the Court of Judicial Police, for his discharge.

(2) If upon any such application the Court is satisfied that reasonable notice of the proposed application has been given to the Minister, the Court may, unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary, by order direct the applicant to be discharged from custody, and, if a warrant for his return has been issued under the said section 21, quash that warrant.
