PRESS RELEASE BY THE OFFICE OF THE SPEAKER

Meeting between Ambassador of the Republic of Serbia Mirjana Jeremić and Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives David Agius

Ambassador of the Republic of Serbia Mirjana Jeremić had a meeting with Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives of Malta David Agius. The discussions focused on strengthening the bilateral relations between Malta and Serbia, with particular emphasis on regional issues, educational and cultural exchanges, and trade opportunities.

Ambassador Mirjana Jeremić and Deputy Speaker David Agius reviewed the current state of relations between their two countries, highlighting the long-standing friendship and cooperation. Both sides expressed their commitment to further enhancing diplomatic ties and exploring new areas of mutual interest, including the Serbian application to join the European Union.

The meeting also covered various regional issues, with both representatives exchanging views on the political and economic stability of the Balkan region and the Mediterranean. They discussed the importance of collaboration in addressing common challenges and promoting peace and stability in their respective regions.

The Ambassador and the Deputy Speaker emphasised the significance of educational and cultural exchanges in fostering mutual understanding and cooperation. They discussed potential partnerships between universities and cultural institutions, aimed at promoting student exchange programmes, joint research projects, and cultural events that celebrate the rich heritage of both nations.

The meeting concluded with a reaffirmation of the strong relationship between Malta and Serbia and a mutual commitment to continue working together on common goals. Both the Ambassador and the Deputy Speaker expressed optimism about the future of Malta-Serbia relations and looked forward to the positive outcomes of their ongoing collaboration.
